JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

CRAPE ON THE DOOR.

Somebody's dead; there's crape on the door,
The blinds are half closed on a neighboring store;
Some one in sorrow of a loved one bereft,
Somebody taken and somebody left.

Gone from this world, its care and its strife,
Gone from the dear ones beloved during life,
Gone to a home with the ransomed above,
Gone to a Saviour whose fullness is love.

Closed be the eyes of the sleeper to-day,
About the home where the loved ones both lay;
There is a reason of weeping for one
Whose troubles are ended, whose labors are done.

Heavy the footfalls as each on his way
Treads the brick pavement, light-hearted to-day;
Little they heed the half-blinded store,
Little they care for the crape on the door.

Little care they in the battle of life,
Ardently fighting 'mid turmoil and strife;
Little care they who never look back,
With eyes firmly fixed on life's beaten track.

On they rush till in reaching life's bound,
They slacken the footstep, and quiet its sound;
Ceasing their efforts, their labors give o'er,
Pass them by gently, there's crape on the door.

THE VISION OF THE DYING.

Is it not a grand and consolatory conviction, that when Christians are passing away from their earth-work to their eternal homes, then the attenuating links that chain consciousness to time and sense are melting away, one by one, and their consciousness becomes, by the gradual enfranchisement of a lingering death, more and more spiritual? Thus sinking to sleep as to earth, they are awaking to heaven; growing unmindful of the lower and outward existence, they are arousing to the inner and spiritual life, becoming to the clay-enveloped forms of friends standing round their failing bodies, they see already, as through a mist, the brother beings who are to be their everlasting companions,—some of whom may be already welcoming their coming. Their hearing waxing dim, and unconscious to the melody of beloved voices whispering in their natural ears, they can become aware of a sweeter music, sung by more exquisite voices still, of the beloved who have gone before them,—in fine, dying unto earth, they are becoming alive unto heaven. Does this not fully and worthily explain the solemn scenes of thousands of death-beds!—visions of spiritual visitants ministering to the dying; resplendent light surrounding glorious beings who cast no shadow; gorgeous scenery, bright with never fading beauty; voices thrilling in tenderness; music mysterious in harmony; the recognition of dear and familiar faces, fondly loved in the by gones; or the foreknowledge which some have received of the exact moment of their departure! There are few families who have not some tale of this kind to tell, some testimony to add to this proof of the contiguity of the spiritual world.

SUPPOSED FULFILLMENT OF PROPHECY. The Church Journal has an article on the probable bearing of current events on the fulfillment of scriptural predictions and foreshadowings. Taking Daniel's "seven times" as beginning at the birth of Nebuchadnezzar, and as divided into equal periods of 1,260 years, it ends the first period at about A. D. 603 to 615, and the second at A. D. 1863 to 1875. The same persecuting power, typified by Daniel's "little horn," and by the "ten horned beast," the false prophet, and the "harlot" of the Apocalypse, is to close its career at the end of the second period. Recapitulating the stirring events in Europe, it adds that "but one feature, the conversion of the Jews, remains to complete the verification of the theory of the great commentators, that the decade in which we are living is at the close of the great prophetic period, and the beginning of Daniel's time of the end."—N. Y. Post.

THE PASHUNCE OF JOB.—Everybody iz in the habit ov bragging on Job; and Job did have considerable pashunce; but did he ever keep a districk skule for 8 dollars a month and board around or run a kountree noosepaper?

Did he ever reap lodged oats down hill on a hot day, and have all his gallus but tons bust oph at once?

Did he ever have the jumping tooth-ache and be made to tend the babe while his wife was over to Parkinses to a teasquall?

Did he ever get up in the mornin' awful dri, and tuff it 3 miles before breakfast to get a drink, and find that the man kept a temperance house?

Did he ever undertake to milk a kicking heifer, with a bushy tail, in fly time, and in a lot?

Did he ever sot on a litter of kittens in the old rocking chair, with his summer pantaloons on?

If he could do all these things and praise the Lord at the same time, all I have to say iz, "Bully for Job."—Josh Billings.

Two lawyers are aspiring to the same Judgeship in Indiana. Both are Republicans, though one is running on the Reform ticket. The other day a friend to the Reform met a former Rushvillan in Indianapolis, and asked him if he knew any thing against C., the simon pure Republican candidate. "Why don't you dig up that indictment against him at Rushville for perjury?" said the gentleman applied to. "Oh, that wouldn't do," was the reply, "because there is an indictment against our man at Greensburg for perjury." And so it was concluded to let two candidates fight it out on a high toned level, without descending to personalities.

The editor who wrote his editorials with chalk on the sole of his shoes, and went barefooted while the printers set up the copy, is dead.

A tavern boaster the other day vaunting his knowledge of the world, was asked by a wag at his elbow if he had been in Algebra. "Oh yes," said he, "I once passed through it on top of a stage."

A paper encourages the young by the example of "a youth who formerly lived in a hovel yet with only his two hands and a crowbar, opened a jewelry store; and now he is living in a large stone residence in Sing Sing."

What do you stand there for gazing at my office? Do you take it for a church? "Faix," answered one of them, "I was thinking so, till I saw the divil poke his head out of the windy."

A Paris paper tells a charming story of clever precocity. "Mamma," said a girl of fourteen, "you never let me play charades, but I know how to make them too. Listen. My first is a domestic animal. My second is what every woman tries to conceal. My whole is the beginning of liberty. Can you guess it?" "No" "But, mamma, it is very simple. It is Mari-age." It is, we suppose, hardly worth while to remind any one that mari is the French for a husband."

Correction does much, but encouragement will do more. Encouragement after censure is like the sun after a shower.

THE EUROPEAN CONFERENCE.

The latest advices seem to indicate that the efforts of the crowned heads of Europe to conclude a peace or an armistice between Prussia and France, and thus terminate one of the bloodiest contests known in history has failed, and that the powers are about to suspend diplomatic negotiations.

It is now rendered pretty clear, that this termination of what at one time was a hopeful effort to restore peace, has been occasioned by the declaration of the Republic by the French people. Monarchs who have so long worn a crown and looked to their transfer to their progeny, cannot be expected to look with favor upon any change in public affairs, which may in a few days remove their crowns from their heads and place their children among the herd of mankind.

That France in her present unfortunate condition can cope with Prussia single handed, is not to be expected. We know that a proud and a brave people, with the prestige of the French can do wonders when fully aroused, but the war so far has proved so disastrous to the hopes of the French, we see no prospect of a favorable termination, when once Paris has been forced to succumb.

Selfishness then on the part of the crowned heads of Europe has doomed Paris, therefore, to the rigors of a seige which may despoil the most beautiful and the richest city of Europe and peradventure deluge France in torrents of blood.

GEORGIA POLITICS.

The visit of Mr. Attorney General Akerman to Georgia and his electioneering speeches it seems have fully aroused the opposition to Radicalism. The Conservatives will bring out their full strength, and their success is not doubtful, unless discord should hamper them.

Judge Linton Stephens, the brother of Hon. A. H. Stephens, recently nominated for Congress and also appointed Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, has addressed a letter to the party, in which he declines both positions, and urges strongly the selection for office of men solely upon their own merits, without regard to their being or not being under disability. The Democratic press of the State with great unanimity express decided opposition to Mr. Stephens' views. They insist that the State and the South need greatly the presence of bold, fearless yet judicious men to guard their interests and to meet promptly the attacks made upon them by Southern loyalists and Northern factionists—that they must have representation at once, and not keep up the game of "fast and loose" any longer. All speak in the most glowing terms of the value of the services of those who are banned, of their utter detestation of the principles and practice of the party which keeps them under disability, and of their readiness to do them honor, but cannot see the wisdom of longer "kicking against the pricks."

The President's Private Secretary, R. M. Douglass, leaves to-morrow for Raleigh, N. C., on matters relative to the recent political troubles in that State.

The above telegram appears in the newspapers. We have not yet heard of his arrival, nor are we advised what he can have to do with any political troubles in this State. As he is the President's "Private Secretary," it is a fair presumption that he is not entrusted with any public official business, but simply with the private business between Pr. sident Grant and Gov. Holden; yet we doubt seriously that the President is green enough to commit even private matters to the keeping of this young man. We have observed for some time that Robert and Stephen, who are really very small potatoes, are careful when they go on a trip from one neighborhood to another, to have it announced by telegraph. From what we hear, Stephen takes some trips and cuts some di-dos, which he would not be very anxious to have chronicled by the telegraph. By the way, it is said, that Dutch-built Stephen and his friend, Col. Clarke, recently pitched into Adjutant General Fisher, who in revising their army accounts, quietly run his pen through several exorbitant charges, not provided for by the "regulations of the N. C. army." Fisher is certainly under no obligations to carpet baggers Clarkee and Stephen, how much soever he might feel obliged to take care of a fellow all the way from down East.

The Supreme Court of North Carolina has decided that a member of the Ku Klux Klan is responsible for the acts of other members even when committed in counties where he has never been and is unknown.—If anybody wants to buy a Supreme court, and is unwilling to pay more than ten dollars for it, we would advise him to go to North Carolina.

The Courier Journal of Louisville, Ky. has the above. It has been led into the error of supposing that the Supreme Court of North Carolina has so decided, from the fact that the recent investigations at Chambers conducted by three members of the Court, have been spoken of by our contemporaries as proceedings of the Supreme Court.

MIXED CROPS.

We copy from a Georgia paper to day, an article on the expediency and advantages of mixed cropping over the common habit of cotton planters, to concentrate all their efforts upon the cotton crop. The present demand upon Southern planters for the almighty dollar we are aware, is the propelling reason which has induced them to adopt this policy. Perhaps, when cotton or any other article commands a high price, planters may find it to their advantage to pursue the plan of cropping upon one article for a year or two, but as a system of planting to be pursued through a series of years, we are of opinion it will always prove disastrous.

The one crop system is always an exhausting process, since all fertilizing and improved culture has reference particularly to the ensuing crop and not to any permanent improvement of your lands. But it must be plain to every one, that any system of planting which does not look to permanent improvement and to the growing capacity of our lands for production, is necessarily a losing business.

The article in this day's issue to which we allude, it must be recollected is constructed upon Georgia planting and would not precisely accord with our experience here, but we believe the principle will hold good here, especially if the rule is applied for five or ten consecutive years or a permanent mode of culture.

The product which the Southern States can yield when all its force is concentrated upon any one article, is so large, that it is plain, no high price can be maintained long on any article upon which our agricultural forces are directed, and hence the necessity of a division of crops or of mixed crops in order to keep up a proper marketable value on our productions. Mixed cropping therefore, has the double advantage of securing the permanent improvement of our lands and the continued appreciation of prices, which are always controlled more or less, by the quantity and the demand.

TENNESSEE.—The Conservatives of Tennessee are bringing out their best men for Congress and are rallying their forces for the contest. In the Greenville district the friends of Andrew Johnson in Convention urged his name against his wishes, in opposition to Hon. James White, who obtained a plurality majority, but it was determined to leave the final decision to a subsequent ballotting of the Convention.

ANOTHER CARPET BAGGER GONE.

Our correspondent gives us the first intimation that we have had that Moore is gone! Joy go with him.

EDITOR SENTINEL:—I am surprised, that as a chronicler of current events, you have not long since informed your readers of the departure, from this county, and from the State, of the Right Hon. Wm. A. Moore, (perhaps better known as Previous question Moore) for distant parts. "We mourn our loss," but there is some consolation in knowing that the Hon. William, will be succeeded in the Senate by that renowned warrior and Statesman, Col. Clarke, "who for the third time" &c., &c.

Old "previous question" left very unexpectedly, a few days after the late election, much to the regret of some, who held little unsettled balances against his Honor.

When last heard from, he was in the far Northwest. Perhaps he is looking for the La Crosse Democrat, which published such naughty things about him a year or so ago.

Col. Clarke did love playing fish.

CARTERET.

BEAUFORT, Sept. 15, 1870.

A gentleman of much observation has recently traversed every Southern State, and assures us that in every State, with the exception of Tennessee and North Carolina, both the cotton and corn crops will prove inferior to those of last year. His estimates that the cotton crop will fall short at least 500,000 bales. Various causes have tended to this result. This would make a very material change in the estimated crop for this year. It is generally thought it will reach as high as 4,000,000 bales, but this would give only 3,000,000, as the crop of last year was in the neighborhood of 3,500,000 bales. From the character of the gentlemen who made these observations, and from his knowledge of the cotton crop, we are inclined to give his views much credence.—Exchange.

REMINISCENCE OF METHUSELAH.—Speaking of "personals," a gentleman, who has been bitten by the arithmetical mania, ciphered out the time, within six weeks, of the death of Methuselah. That patriarch died in the year of the world 1656, the very year of the flood. Unless, therefore—which is too dreadful to be believed—he was actually drowned in the deluge, he must have died in the first week in the year, for Noah went into the ark on the seventeenth day of the second month, being then a middle-aged man of six hundred, doubtless just beginning to be flecked with gray. His father, Lamech, cut off prematurely at the age of seven hundred and seventy-seven, died five years before the flood. Jubal, recently sung by George Eliot, belonged to the same generation as Methuselah. His sister, Mnamah is said by tradition to have espoused Ham, in which case supposing the lives of the two branches of the family to have been about equal duration, she would be an elderly lady of some nine hundred years at the time of her espousal.

THE CHAMPION OF GERMAN FASHION.—The personal opinions of the King of Prussia on the subject of government are of interest at this time, as they may exercise an important influence upon his dealings with the present authorities of France. King William was crowned on the 18th of October, 1861. In an address delivered on the 15th, he said:

"The rulers of Prussia receive their crown from God. To morrow, therefore, I shall take the crown from the Lord's table, and place it on my head. This is the meaning of the expression 'King by the grace of God,' and therein lies the sanctity of the crown, which is inviolable."

And he fulfilled his promise. At the appointed time he placed the "golden round of sovereignty" upon his own head, with the remark, "I wear this crown by the favor of God, and of nobody else." A prince professing and acting upon this idea, is not likely to regard republicanism with much favor, in France or elsewhere.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A newspaper says a spoon with the name of Columbus on it has lately been found. Let it be sent to that national collection of the same article now in possession of that handsome statesman, Ben Butler.—Chicago Times.

REMARKS OF DR. R. K. SPEED,

Made at the reception of Judge Brooks by the citizens of Elizabeth City, on his return home.

[PUBLISHED BY REQUEST.]

JUDGE BROOKS:—In the name, and as the organ of this vast concourse of ladies and gentlemen, your friends and neighbors, I welcome you to your home and the endearments of your family.

It is with hearts brim full of gratitude to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, that we have assembled this evening to do honor to you as the instrument in his hands, of our great deliverance from the terrors of an impending civil strife, which had it not been arrested by your prompt, firm and judicious action, would have led to horrors more dreadful than had entered into the hearts, even of our infatuated rulers.

To say to any man, you have done your duty is no compliment. 'Tis none from us to give, but sir, we may, will and do rejoice, that in the great crisis of our fate, you did your duty mildly, firmly and nobly. When an armed invasion of the State by a reckless horde of mercenaries, headed by her constituted authorities without authority of law; without sufficient cause or justification; when some of the best citizens of the State were arrested by an armed soldiery, without warrant, incarcerated without trial, without being furnished with the charges, if any, that were preferred against them; when the Supreme Judicial authority of the State, had solemnly declared that the whole power of the civil law had been exhausted and from it no relief could be expected, then sir, you our friend and neighbor, in the legitimate discharge of your judicial functions, stepped forth in the name of the government of the United States and with the "great writ of right," the palladium of Republican liberty, the chief corner-stone of individual right, and set the captives free. Egypt erected pyramids, Greece temples and Imperial Rome triumphal arches to perpetuate the memory of their heroes and statesmen. Marble will moulder into dust and brazen statues yield to the corroding hand of time, but sir, for this grand civic achievement, you deserve and will receive a monument more durable than marble, more lasting than brass, a monument of gratitude, graven deeply upon the tablet of the heart, of every true and noble son and daughter of "the good Old North State."

When, sir, a just Judge, with a heart to feel and a nerve to execute, throws the mantle of the civil law over the oppressed and defenceless, and drives the insolence of military despotism, abashed and discomfited, into its subordinate and true position, his name deserves to be inscribed in letters of living light, high in the Temple of Fame, as a beacon to those who are to follow him; and, sir, for this lifting the "great writ" from degradation, into which it had fallen, either by the timidity or treachery of its great custodian, will this honor be awarded. When time and reflection have chastened the passions and dispelled the prejudices of the hour, George W. Brooks, will be but another name for a fearless, just and upright Judge. From the rising sun, along his course as he traverses the Heavens, until he kiss the placid waters of the Pacific, before retiring beneath the Western horizon, will that name be a household word. From the frigid regions of Alaska to the land of perpetual sun and flowers around the Gulf, on both sides, "all round to the sea," of that mighty mother of waters, which divides this "great Republic" between East and West, will decrepid age, lisping infancy and vigorous manhood, clap their hands for joy at the name of him who, armed with justice, mercy and the Constitution, "laid their trident on the cresting wave and all again was hushed," as long as that mighty river rolls her tribute to the sea.

We welcome you as the Healer of civil strife, as the captive's liberator, the quieter of vaulting ambition that o'er leaped itself, the restorer of civil law and the great moderator in these degenerate, man-worshiping, place seeking times, of that great palladium of right and justice—habeas corpus; but especially do we welcome and honor you for your instrumentality in opening a way for the government of the United States to the hearts and affections of a patient, down trodden but ever loyal people. Some of us had commenced, though reluctantly, to believe that the government of the United States had cast us off unfriended and unprotected, a prey to the bad passions of our faithless rulers, but when we heard that the beneficient laws of the government of the United States, administered by an upright Judge of that same government had opened the prison doors and bade the captives go free, our hearts filled with gratitude, our eyes overflowed with tears of joy and our souls run out with alacrity to grapple to it with hooks of steel, to form with an union as lasting as time, as durable as eternity. Hope which so long had lain dormant under great affliction, sprung into new and vigorous action; confidence took fresh root, and now Sir, we have a confident hope that these 36 sovereign States (North Carolina being one in the full enjoyment of all her constitutional rights) will soon be in waves like the ocean, yet one as the sea.

Again thanking you, severally and collectively, for your firm and bold stand in defence of constitutional liberty and the rights of a defenceless and unoffending people, congratulating ourselves that our city and county have given the State a Judge, whose deeds as the him to stand as the peer of a Henderson, a Graham, a Ruffin or a Badger, "We welcome you home again."

General Sheridan witnessed the late battle from King William's headquarters. He watched the progress of events for some time, and burst into tears. The crowd thought he was tender-hearted, until he went up to Bismarck, and pointing to a barn on the right, with a lot of women and children looking out of the loft, he said: "Please send a squad of soldiers to burn that barn, and let me lead them. It would seem so homelike." The request was not granted.—Pomeroy's Democrat.

A GOOD POINT.—The Chicago Times makes a telling point when it says: While Grant has been receiving houses and lots, horses, wines, cigars, etc., as gifts; and while Mrs. Lincoln has been scrambling for a pension which Congress has at last conferred upon her. General Lee has promptly refused an annuity of $3,000 which the trustees of Washington College wish to settle upon his wife. Education in moral decency and self respect, has been neglected on one side or the other. Will the Republican party say which?

A Glasgow merchant, on his death-bed, sent for a Free Church clergyman. Having some fears regarding his future prospects, he asked the reverend gentleman: "Do you think if I were to leave £20,000 to the Free Kirk that my soul would be saved?" "Well," answered the cautious minister, "I couldn't just promise you that, but I think it an experiment well worth trying."

The Brooklyn Union, Tilton's paper, says: "The next Vice President of the United States must be a negro. If Revels was an able and a brilliant man he would inevitably be the candidate, but he is not a man of sufficient calibre and prestige.—The one man of all others is Frederick Douglass."

A THOUSAND YEARS AGO.

It is certainly one of the greatest curiosities in history that exactly one thousand years ago, in the year of our Lord 870, the people of France and Germany fought under their kings upon the same soil, that of Lorraine, for very nearly the same reasons, and with the same result. This happened as follows: The empire of Charlemagne and that of his son who succeeded him, Ludwig I, called the Pious, was divided by his three sons, the grandsons of Charlemagne, in 843, at the congress of Verdun, between themselves in such a manner that Lothaire received, besides the title of emperor, Italy and what was then called Middle Franconia, a strip of land running from the North Sea to the Mediterranean, and their joining Upper Italy, a broad strip of land containing modern Holland, Belgium, the Lorraine, the Alsace, and all that part of Southern France lying between the Rhone and Saone and the Alps on the east. Ludwig received Eastern Franconia, which was from that time called Germania or Germany, and from which he, as Germany's king, was called Ludwig the German.

Carl, who was called the Bald, from his bald head, received Western Franconia, from that time called Franconia, or France. Lothaire died in 855, and again subdivided his empire amongst his three sons. To the oldest, Ludwig, he gave Italy and the crown and title of emperor; to the second, Lothaire, the northern part of his dominion, comprising a part of modern Holland, Belgium, and the province called up to this day Lorraine or Lotharingen, the Alsace, and all the land extending down to the Saone. To the youngest, Carl, he gave all the land south of the Saone to the Mediterranean, under the title of Kingdom of Provence.

In 869 Loraine died without heirs, after he had previously become possessed also of his brother Carl's Kingdom of Provence, and it was then that Carl the Bald, King of France, stepped forward to take sole possession of his nephew's kingdom, comprising all the eastern part of modern France, and extending from the Meuse to the Rhine, and from the Rhine to the Alps, and from the North Sea way down to the Mediteranean. He was completely successful, for his nephew Ludwig, the Emperor in Italy, and his brother Ludwig, the King of Germany, had both their hands too full to claim their share of the rich inheritance.

But a year later, in 870, just one thousand years ago, suddenly a large and well-appointed German army crossed the Rhine, broke into France, and defeated Carl the Bald and his armies at once, and so completely that he was compelled to sign a treaty of peace in the same year (870,) by which he ceded to his brother Ludwig, the German, all the eastern part of those lands which he had appropriated from his nephew, and comprising the modern provinces of Alsace, Eastern Lorraine, and the territories around the cities of Trier, or Treves, Cologne, Mastricht, and Utrecht, down to the mouth of the River Rhine.

The first grand fight for the Rhine provinces on the part of France, and the Alsace and Lorraine on that of Germany, which is, after all, if not the sole cause, certainly one of the principal cause of the present war of 1870, took place consequently just one thousand years ago, in 870, and with the same result.

ANOTHER DECISION ABOUT TOBACCO.—The acting commissioner of internal revenue informs dealers in leaf tobacco that under a special tax receipt they can sell ordinary leaf tobacco in the condition they receive it as cured by the planters, in quantities large or small, as may suit purchasers; but tobacco twisted by hand, or in any manner prepared for consumption, though such preparation be made without the use of any machine or instrument, or without any pressing or sweetening, is liable to a specific tax of 32 cents per pound.

HARD ON SHERIDAN.—The New York Journal (German) thus alludes to P. Sheridan:

"Sheridan prides himself that, on his march through the Shenandoah Valley, he destroyed numerous mills, dwellings, barns and other buildings. He went with lighted torch and flaming sword through the country of his own people. The Germans destroy nothing, and do not trouble peaceable citizens. General Sheridan will, in King William's camp, learn how a civilized nation carries on war."

GEN. LEE'S COMMENT.—A gentleman just from Lexington tells that when Gen. Lee heard of the defeat of McMahon's army, and the surrender of the Emperor, he quietly remarked that he did not see how any commander, with a million of men at his back, could surrender.

The series of campaigns which culminated at Appomattox Court house show how Gen. Lee thinks a commander should fight before he consents to surrender.—Lynchburg Virginian.

4. None of this is composed of the notes-of-hand of policy-holders, as the case in many companies.
5. It has paid to widows and orphans, and other claimants under policies on deceased members, about $4,000,000.
6. Such payments are made in cash, and not partly in cancelled notes, as is the case in many companies.
7. No deductions are made from the face of a policy for premium notes when it becomes a claim, as is the case in all Note Companies.
8. The sum of $1,500,000, and upwards, in cash divided among policy-holders, (this included the dividend for the present year) as profits of the business.
9. All the profits of the business are annually divided among the assured. Equitably, instead of being wholly or partially distributed among the stockholders, as is the case in all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
10. Dividends are invariably available as cash in payment of premiums.
11. The dividends are made from the start, and not postponed until after the lapse of several years, as in many Companies.
12. The Society deals Equitably with its policy-holders.
13. The Equitable has made more progress since its organization than any other Life Company in the world.
14. Its risks have been so carefully selected and its dealing so equitable, that it has never been obliged to contest the payment of a claim at law.
15. Its modes of applying dividends are more numerous and more advantageous than those of any other company in the world.
16. It issues all the popular styles of policy, including "Ten Year Non-Forfeiting" and "Redemption policies."
17. The amount of new business during the year ending "December, 1, 1869, Was $51,021,343.
18. Its policies average larger in amount than those of any other company, showing that capitalists select the Equitable for purposes of investment.
19. The profits of the business are apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution Plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division, and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the policy-holders.
20. It is as liberal in the conduct of its business as is consistent with safety to the assured, and does not sacrifice proper caution to an ambition to increase the nominal amount of its business as is the case with many new companies.
21. It employs the best medical talent for examination of applicants, and writes policies only on the very best lives, thus keeping the mortality among its assured far below the average.
22. Policies in this company may become self-sustaining, by the operation of dividends, after a comparatively short term of years.
23. Policies in this company, by the application of dividends in the appropriate method, constantly increase in amount, without increase of premium, until after the lapse of a term of years, it is expected they will be at least doubled.
24. Losses in this company are promptly paid, and information always given without delay to the interested parties.
25. It combines all the advantages of all other companies, without any of their objectionable features.
26. It is the favorite company in the United States, as is shown by its new business for last year, being nearly $13,000,000 greater than any other company.

THE SENTINEL.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1870.

☞ THEO. N. RAMSAY, as Business Clerk, is authorized to make contracts and give receipts, &c., &c.

PERSONAL.—Our citizens, generally, will regret to learn that Gen. H. J. Hunt, U. S. A., has received orders to return to his former post, Fort Adams, Newport, R. I., and will leave this city in a day or two.

Gen. Hunt, by his courteous and affable deportment, and his manly impartiality in the discharge of his duties, won for himself the esteem of the whole community. All are sorry to see him go, and all will, we are sure, join us in wishing him success and prosperity.

HAPPY RIDDANCE.—Another squad of Holden's colored troops left this city yesterday morning en route for Newbern, from whence they came. They amused themselves the night before and the morning of their departure by firing off their guns and kicking up generally. We understand they drew their pay just before going. The firing of guns in the streets at random violates an ordinance of the city, and if repeated it should be enforced.

TEMPERANCE FAIR.—Thursday evening, though the weather was somewhat inclement, a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen attended the Fair at Temperance Hall. It being the last evening of the festival a great many articles were disposed of by raffle and auction. We understand that the Fair has been eminently successful and that our Temperance friends will have no cause to complain of an empty Treasury.

THESPIANS.—We frequently observe in the columns of our exchanges, notices of the performances of Thespian corps in their respective localities. What has become of the excellent organization that existed in this city some time ago? If extinct, why can it not be revived? Now that the long nights of winter are fast coming upon us, the tedium of many a dreary hour might be whiled away both agreeably and profitably, by this means.

But if theatrical exhibitions should be objected to by some, then there are Reading Clubs, Debating Societies and a number of other means by which both the moral and mental status of our young men might be vastly improved.

Such sources of amusement as mentioned above are often productive of the greatest good. They are not only the means of cultivating proper social relations, of stimulating a praiseworthy ambition to excel, but operate as the best safeguard against the haunts and dens of iniquity. The greatest danger always encompasses the young man who roams over the streets at night, seeking an opportunity to throw away precious time in some demoralizing amusement. Who will lead in this matter?

CITIZENS CORNET BAND.—At an adjourned meeting of this Band, held last Thursday evening at the store of M. A. Parker, Esq., B. W. Justice was elected President, Prof. D. N. Coleman, Director, J. M. Broughton, Secretary, and J. S. Wynne, Treasurer. A permanent Constitution was adopted to complete the organization. A committee of correspondence was appointed to obtain information as to the quality and cost of instruments. Also a committee to solicit funds from the citizens of Raleigh to aid the Band in purchasing instruments. This latter committee is composed of the following named gentlemen: B. W. Justice, James Lewis, Romulus Weathers, Wm. H. Vaughn and D. S. Waitt. We bespeak for this committee a liberal response on the part of the citizens. We also caution all our citizens against giving money for such purpose to any other parties, than some member of the above named committee or some officer of the Band, as we learn that some parties, whose names are well known have been collecting money from our citizens on very questionable grounds.

The Citizens Cornet Band is composed of twenty gentlemen, a considerable number of whom are experienced musicians. It is their intention, after sufficient training, to play one evening in each week in some public place in the city. It should be a matter of city pride to sustain and encourage the enterprise.

FOUND.—On Martin between Salisbury and McDowell Streets, a pocket book, containing a small sum of money. By applying at the Mayor's office and proving the property the owner can obtain possession.

NOT TO BE DETECTED.—The hues imparted to gray heads by PHALON'S VITALIA, OR SALVATION FOR THE HAIR, are as vivid as those of nature, and the change is not effected by a disregard of cleanliness, as is the case with the other hair coloring preparations, the VITALIA being eminently clean. No sediment. Sold by all druggists and fancy goods dealers.

Trust what Time has Sanctioned.

The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity, may in some cases, be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses extending through a series of years, and all to the same purport is worthy of credence, admits of no question. Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ailments is based. During the twenty years that it has been before the world innumerable preparations intended to compete with it, have gone up like rockets, and come down the extinguished sticks. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady—always upward and onward like the eagle's flight. Its introduction produced a revolution in therapeutics and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that cannot go backwards. To-day Hostetter's Bitters is one of the most popular remedies in christendom, and commands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspepsia, bilious disorders, nervous affections, general debility, it takes precedence of every other remedy. This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foist their local abortions on the public in its stead, how mean their small attempts to cajole the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the suckers.

STATE FAIR.—General W. G. Lewis, of Edgecombe, has been appointed Chief Marshal at the State Fair in October, and we learn he has appointed the following as assistant marshals:

Capt. Wm. B. Hill, Mecklenburg.
Capt. J. G. Kenan, Duplin.
Maj. B. C. Manly, Wake.
Dr. W. C. Capehart, Chowan.
Dr. J. B. McKee, Wake.
Geo. Little, Jr., Esq., Warren.
John W. Blount, Esq., Beaufort.
Capt. Saml. Grier, Cabarrus.
Adolphus G. Moore, Esq., Alamance.
John E. Crow, Esq., New Hanover.
Dr. C. F. Dowd, Wake.
Maj. J. M. Crenshaw, Wake.
Saml. E. Westray, Esq., Nash.

ADDITIONAL PREMIUMS.—A few days since we noticed the fact that quite a number of our enterprising business men had offered special premiums, in addition to those offered by the Society, on certain articles. We have the pleasure, to day, to add the following to those already published:

Messrs. Dancy, Hyman & Co., Commission Merchants, New York, (Hyman & Dancy, Norfolk, Va.,) offer for the best light draught Stallion, owned in the State, $25, making in all $50 premium on the same.

Messrs. Hawkins, Williamson & Co., Commission Merchants, Baltimore, offer for the best box of tobacco manufactured in the State, $25, making $40 for this article.

Our enterprising young townsman, Douglas Bell, Grocer and Commission Merchant, offers a special premium of $5 on the best barrel of N. C. flour, making $20.

Also by the same $10 for the best draught horse, making $20. Also $10 for the best milch cow, making the premium offered for the best cow $30.

We are pleased to chronicle these evidences of increasing interest in our State Fair, and hope to add yet many others.

FIRE BRIGADE PARADE.—The Fire Brigade of this city, made a fine display Thursday afternoon. The parade was occasioned by the Rescue Steam Fire Company, No. 1, taking possession of their new Engine house. Seaton Gales, Esq., made an address to the brigade in his usually happy vein which was applauded enthusiastically throughout. The brigade is composed of the Rescue Steam Fire Company, No. 1; No. 2, Mechanics' Fire Company and the Hook and Ladder Company, and a finer looking body of men, we will venture to say, is not to be found in the State.

The Fire Department of Wilmington had a grand jollification on Wednesday on the occasion of the reception of the new steam fire engine, "A. Adrian." There was a parade in the afternoon and a splendid collation at night, at which a number of prominent gentlemen participated.

The population of Salisbury sums up as follows: White males, 582; white females, 599. Total white population, 1,131. Colored males, 438; colored females, 547. Total colored population, 985.

The survey of the Turnpike road from Marion, via Bakersville and Burnsville to Asheville, has been completed and contracts taken to build it.

After the 1st of October, Mr. P. F. Duffy, of Greensboro', will take a position upon the editorial staff of the Patriot. We congratulate the Patriot upon its good fortune in securing the services of such an accomplished and talented gentleman as Mr. Duffy, who we believe, was for several years in the editorial harness in one of our Western States.

Greensboro' is becoming quite a city; papers there chronicle two burglaries in one night.

The Steamer "Cape Fear," from Wilmington for Baltimore was wrecked on the night of the 9th inst, off the shoals of Cape Lookout. Two seamen were drowned.

Cotton is beginning to come freely into the Newbern market.

An attempt was made on Thursday to fire the cotton stored in the warehouse of Messrs. Wade & Howard in Newbern.—Fortunately the fire was discovered and extinguished before doing much damage.

Turner, a colored policeman, while walking his beat in Newbern, on Thursday night, took the liberty of commanding two individuals, whose movements were suspicious, to halt. Instead of obeying the order they replied with a brick bat, which took effect over poor Turner's left eye and knocked him senseless. The assailants beat a retreat without being discovered.

The idea of placing double daily trains on the Railroad lines from Augusta to Richmond has been abandoned, because the North Carolina Railroad has not a sufficient number of engines and cars to run it from Charlotte to Greensboro.

The 57th Synod of the Presbyterian Church of North Carolina, will commence in this city on the 5th of October next.

The Presbytery of Wilmington, will convene in the Presbyterian Church in Goldsboro on the 1st day of next month.

The Board of Commissioners of Forsyth county, have laid the county Railroad tax at 50 cents on the $100 worth of property, and $1,50 on the poll. The Board also ordered the Financial agent of the county, not to sell any more county bonds for the N. W. N. C. R. R. for the present.

Messrs. Williams & Murchison, Commission Merchants, of Wilmington, offer a Silver Cup as a premium on the best bale of Cotton exhibited at the Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association in November next.

Henry Haar, Jr., won the prize Silver Cup in the match game of ten pins, which was played in Wilmington on Tuesday last.

A meeting of the Rockingham Agricultural Club recently held at Madison, resolved to adopt prompt measures for the improvement of the navigation of Dan River.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—St. Thomas advices up to August 31st, report the position of Baez as critical. His Minister of War has resigned. The deception practiced by Baez turns former friends into enemies. It is reported that trains from Paris yesterday and to-day were attacked and several passengers killed. After to-day communication with Paris will be uncertain.

Bazaine at Metz is well supplied. The Prussians are slowly concentrating around Paris.

The Times has the following in regard to mediation: "Russia declines a further effort. Bancroft denies invoking American intervention. The Prussians are satisfied with England's reserved attitude as defeating French hopes for and armed intervention. Germany demands Alsace and Loraine."

The King of Prussia rejects American mediation. Bancroft writes to Washburne that he can only remain a spectator of the conflict.—Washburne in communicating the above to Favre, adds that he can only record his protest to this impious war.

FLORENCE, Sept. 16.—After the occupation of the Papal States, Italy will summon a national Parliament, to be chosen by universal suffrage.

The papers appear in half size in consequence of the scarcity of paper.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—A slow mail to Paris has been arranged via Rouen. Only a few curious travelers have arrived at Wilhelmshohe. Half of them are Americans. The Duchess of Hamilton visited the Emperor.

Montreal Von Werther, delays the final assault upon Strasburg to prevent useless butchery.

The French are uselessly destroying works of art on the approaches to Paris; it will not delay the Prussian advance an hour.

French journals to-day persist that mediation is possible. In the meantime the Prussians are massing at some distance from the city. The defensive measure around Paris is so great, that the French hope that it will deter the Prussians and compel peace.

The following is just received from Paris: "The Prussian advance is at Breteuil, and Neuilly-sur-Marne. Three scouting parties occupied Corbeil and Clamont. Throngs of people are escaping from Paris."

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 16.—The Official Journal regrets William's determination to treat only with the Emperor, as the Emperor cannot reign again in France, he cannot enforce the treaty.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The Minister of War reports many captures of Prussians in the suburbs.—The Minister of War has advices from Ulrich, commanding at Strasburg, that the bombardment is constant and terrific, and that the city is badly damaged. Ulrich adds that he has no idea of surrendering.

It is reported that as the Prussians will demand guarantees in case of peace, the French Government is preparing guarantees.

An army is being rapidly organized at the military headquarters at Tours, to be known as the Army of the Loire.

Volunteer enrolments exceed 50,000. In all of France over a million of volunteers are enrolled.

Electric lights have been placed on all the forts around the city to discover the enemies night movements.

It is reported that the government has the Emperor's cypher correspondence with the key. Startling developments are expected.

MIXED CROPS.

A vast deal has been said in the papers against the policy of planters raising cotton alone, to the neglect of other things. It has been found very difficult to create any change in this policy, though the country has suffered by it. Farmers will do as they please, and they resolutely stick to their cotton monopoly.

The proper way to reach the matter is not simply to theorise about it, but to give facts and figures demonstrating the advantage of the mixed crop plan over the other. We find in the Southern Cultivator the result of an actual experience, which illustrates the matter so fully that we reproduce the article.

The statements are based on two farms of equal fertility of two hundred acres each.

The expense of the cotton farm will be for fifteen hands and five mules; for the mixed farm ten hands and five mules. The results are well worthy of notice:

EXPENSES OF 200 ACRES IN COTTON.

Labor of 15 hands and rations,	$2,700 00
Corn for 5 mules, at $1 75 per bushel,	787 50
Hay for mules,	200 00
Cotton seed for planting 200 acres,	100 00
Bagging and rope for 66 bales,	198 00
Freight and drayage, say 25 miles from market,	115 00
Insurance and storage on 66 bales,	40 00
Commissions on 66 bales, at 18c. per lb., commissions 2½ per cent.	148 00
For Guano,	1,600 00
Interest on $1,000 at 19 per cent to purchase provisions,	190 00
Expense of hauling provisions,	50 00
Total,	$6,129 00

EXPENSE OF 100 ACRES IN CORN AND PEAS, 100 IN COTTON AND 50 IN WHEAT.

Labor of 10 hands and rations	$1,800 00
Corn for 5 mules, 60 bushels per mule, one third less than for cotton,	525 00
Fodder,	100 00
Cotton seed to plant 100 acres	50 00
Freight and drayage—33 bales cotton,	57 75
Bagging and rope for same,	99 00
For Guano,	1,600 00
Total expenses,	$4,231 75

PROCEEDS OF COTTON CROP.

33,000 lbs. cotton at 18 cts.,	$5,940 00
2,640 bushels cotton seed, at 25 cents,	640 00
Total proceeds,	$6,580 00
Deduct expenses,	6,123 50
Profit,	$450 50

PROCEEDS OF MIXED CROPS.

160 acres of corn, at 20 bush. per acre, 2,000 bushels at $1.75	$3,500 00
300 bushels peas at $2 per bush.	600 00
20,000 pounds fodder at $2 per 100	400 00
16,500 pounds cotton, at 18c. per lb.	2,970 00
1,320 bushels cotton seed, at 25 cents per bushel,	330 00
250 bushels wheat $1.50 per bush.	375 00
Total proceeds,	$8,175 00
Deduct expenses,	4,231 85
Profit,	$3,942 08
Difference in favor of mixed crop	$3,492 75

I am happy to say, that the fact is rapidly becoming evident, that our past practice, that of planting all or nearly all cotton, and purchasing our provisions, has not only been unwise and poor financiering, but suicidal.

The exhibits of the commercial world clearly demonstrate that in the same ratio that we increase the production of cotton, do we diminish its value, and increase the demand for provisions, and, consequently, its price. And as "self preservation" is the first law of nature, and as we are under no special obligations to send all of our money to the North and West for provisions, I hope we will be allowed to so reconstruct our planting interests, as to keep our money at home and thereby preserve the "life of the goose that lay's the golden egg."

Respectfully yours, H.

McBean, Ga., July 21, 1870.

NON-EXPLOSIVE COMBINATION BURNING FLUID

THE CHEAPEST, BEST AND SAFEST ILLUMINATING AGENT IN THE WORLD!!

No more Exploded Cans!—No more Exploded Lamps!
No more Smoke!—No more Grease!
No more Fires!!

EVERYBODY PREFERS IT AFTER GIVING IT A TRIAL!

IT costs less!—It lasts longer!—Gives a more Brilliant Light!—May be burned in hand lamps, without chimney.

Guaranteed to make a better and safer Light than Coal Oil and to be NON-EXPLOSIVE!!!

No accidents have ever happened with it.

Protected by Copy right for 28 years from May 8th 1869.

The above Fluid has been in constant use for upwards of three years, and has sustained its unrivalled reputation, as a brilliant, non-explosive illuminating agent, though subjected to the severest tests. Being universally conceded to be superior to Kerosene or Coal Oil. It makes a better light and more of it, than any other illuminating compound. Soft, clear, steady and uninjurious to the eyes. All that is asked is, a fair and impartial trial.

Among the numerous testimonials received read the following:

PHILADELPHIA, March 15th, 1869.

The undersigned, having witnessed the experiments of Messrs. Hale & Co., with their Combination Burning Fluid, take pleasure in commending it to the public. The various tests to which the Fluid was subjected, was in the highest degree satisfactory. We have no hesitation in pronouncing it to be a safe and brilliant illuminating agent. Its cheapness added to its other good qualities, should insure its introduction into every family in the country, where Kerosene Oil is used.

FOR THE IMPROVED

"UTLEY COTTON PRESS."

THE "UTLEY PRESS" So well known, and which gave entire satisfaction last season, can be obtained of me at Raleigh, or my Agents, Messrs. Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern, with its improvements.

Price $175.00.

This invention of power, whereby all friction is overcome, its simplicity, economy and durability, astonishes all who see it; and the more so, that a power so simple should have remained so long unappropriated. The strain is wholly borne by the Bed Plate, Follower Block, and two 1½ inch square iron bars, which is capable of sustaining a strain of 190,000 lbs. Thus giving much more strength than is required. WITH THIS PRESS TWO MEN CAN PACK A BALE OF COTTON WITH EASE IN EIGHT MINUTES WEIGHING FROM 400 to 550 lbs.

One man can do the work, only requiring longer time.

It occupies a very small space, and can be so placed as to receive the lint direct from the Gin or Lint Room, as may be desired. Thus doing away with baskets, and frequent handling of the lint.

It is light in weight, can be taken down or put up in 30 minutes and transported on a two Horse Wagon.

I believe it unequalled by any Press for power, convenience and durability.

Press complete—Depth Cotton Box 8 feet ' Size Bale 4½ feet x26x28x50in; wt. Bale 400 to 550 lbs.

T. H. BRIGGS, Esq.: Dear Sir:—I used the "Utley Cotton Press." I purchased from you last season, and consider it to be the best Press I ever saw. Having packed bales to weigh from five hundred and ninety (590) to six hundred and twelve pounds (612) I consider it the best and most durable Press I ever saw used, and can cheerfully recommend its use to the farmers of North Carolina.

Yours truly, C. W. BYNUM.

MR. THOMAS H. BRIGGS: Dear Sir:—Yours of 13th instant inquiring as to the merits of the "Utley Cotton Press" is to hand, and in reply I would say that I have tried other Presses and consider the plan upon which the Utley Press works cheaper, simpler and more durable than any I have met with.

Yours very respectfully, JAS. R. WILDER

THOS. H BRIGGS, Esq., Raleigh, N. C.: Sir—I have used "Utley's Cotton Press" for baling hay for some months. It works well and gives entire satisfaction. I regard it as the best Hay Press I have seen.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 18th, 1870.

T. H. BRIGGS, Esq., Raleigh, N. C.: Dear Sir:—I used the "Utley Cotton Press" I purchased from you last season. I packed my own crop of cotton, also other crops for my neighbors, making in all one hundred bales. I consider it superior in all respects to any Press I have ever seen and that it is every thing the patentee represents, I packed bales weighing from four hundred to five hundred and ninety-seven pounds.

Yours truly, W. T. HOWLE.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!!

THE BROOKLYN LIFE, IS THE ONLY COMPANY IN AMERICA WHICH GUARANTEES

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

IN CASE A POLICY IS FORFEITED FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.

The BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for judgment of investment, economy of management, and skill and care in the selection of risks,—upon which elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the Cash value of their Policies, each and every year, and a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities.

Insurers, in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully seek for this important SAFEGUARD. It will be found in the BROOKLYN LIFE.

CASH ASSETS - - - - - - - - $500,000.

YOUNG, HEALTHY, VIGOROUS AND CONDUCTED BY A WISE, PRUDENT, AND ECONOMICAL BOARD OF DIRECTORS UPON A

NEW SYSTEM,

devised by its talented and distinguished Actuary CHAS. N. MORGAN, which must make it the leading Company in America, for persons in

MODERATE CIRCUMSTANCES,

and all who appreciate and demand the most UNQUESTIONABLE SECURITY, at rates in most cases, considerably lower than those of the leading Mutual Cash Companies.

The Excelsior issues Polices on all the plans of Mutual or Stock Companies, extending to policy holders, all their really desirable advantages. Its policies being non-forfeiting, the insured are privilged to live and travel where they please in any healthy part of the world, they participate in its profits, are allowed 30 days grace for payment of renewal of premium, a cash surrender value of policy, and a privilege which has never been offered by any other Company, that of converting Policies into after the payment of 5 or more annual premiums.

☞ Hitherto, I have been restricted in the very popular Company which I had the honor to represent to Stock rates alone, which most of the Mutual, and mixed Companies have adopted. This disadvantage, together with the multiplication of many new Companies, in this State who claimed to possess unusual charms, together with the extraordinary attractions presented by the Excelsior induced me to accept the management of that Company, whose plan combines all the popular features of other Companies, represented in this State, and the additional privilege of converting policies, which the holder can not afford to keep up, and the to discontinue because of the death of those for whose benefit the policy was secured, into an Annuity Bond which provides an income in cash through life, or for a series of years as preferred.

Circulars giving full explanations and any other information, will be cheerfully furnished.

The most liberal arrangements, will be made with first class solicitors, to push the Excelsior forward in the Old North State, to that position which her low rates and most ample security entitle her to occupy.
